The Traction company is rapidly pushing work on its extension. The poles are being erected and the track has been graded nearly the entire distance. The line to Blakely will certainly be in operation before the 15th. There is no lessening of interest in the campaign of the Democratic candidates for the nomination for assem-blymen from the Fourth district. Three of Archbald's favorite sons are being named for the office and all are making forts to secure the festive delegate. Each one seems confident that he will be nominated, but it is likely that neither will be if all remain in the field. Friends of the candidates are arxious for a compromise that will have the effect of uniting the Archbald delegates, and it is not unlikely that such an agreement will be reached before the convention.

A large number of young people from this place witnessed the marriage of Miss Mamie Olmacht, of Jermyn, to John Stirn, of Carbondale, at the home of Leo Olmacht, in Jermyn, last evening. Both parties formerly lived in this borough. Their many friends here will wish them much success durng their married life.

Ancient Mechanical Tools. At the Royal society conversazione a great deal of interest was excited by the exhibition of sixty tools and utensils of the Roman period, found together in a pit in the Roman-British city of Silchester, Hants, These included an anvil, a pair of blacksmith's tongs, hammer, axes, gouges, chisels, adzes, a large carpenter's plane, two shoemaking anvils, two plow colters, a standing lamp, a gridiron, a bronze scale beam and others. Many of these articles were most remarkably like similar tools of the present day, the plane, which was evidently a "trying plane" and entirely of metal, being very suggestive of a Yankee origin. It is said to be the only Roman plane found in Britain.-New York Telegram.

A Question of Time. A Woodward avenue druggist who sleeps in his store was reveling in his first siumbers when he was awakened by a pounding on his door.

"Who's there?" he shouted. "A customer-open the door," came the quick answer. Supposing some one was in urgent need of medicine for a sufferer the druggist hurried into his clothes and opened the door. A man stood outside, who placidly inquired: "Have you the time?" "Yes," shouted the angry druggist, as he bolted his door, "and I'll keep it too."

-Detroit Free Press.

When the first vessel completed the pas sage of the then new Erie canal, in 1825, there being no such thing as a telegraph in those days, the news was communicated to New York and to Buffalo by cannons placed within hearing of each other all the way along from Albany to each of the other cities. The signal was passed along in this way from Albany to New York city and back again to Albany in fifty-eight minutes. The experiment was a costly
